Enrolment conditions

If you cannot attend the course you have booked into, you must advise us in writing at least two weeks before the course starts. If this happens, you will receive a credit note to the full value of the course. You can use this credit note towards another course.

In exceptional circumstances, special consideration may be given for withdrawals or transfers within the two week period. If this occurs, you will be charged a $50 administration fee and a credit note will be issued for the outstanding amount. Exceptional circumstances are defined as serious personal considerations or illness (documentation is required). The Sydney Writers' Centre cannot accept responsibility for changes in work commitments.

Once the course has commenced, there are no transfers or refunds in the event you are unable to attend. Please note that these conditions apply whether or not you enrol in a course after the two week grace period. We reserve the right to cancel or terminate a course or refuse any enrolment as permitted by law.

All enrolled students are automatically included on the Sydney Writers' Centre's mailing list which informs people about upcoming courses, writing opportunities, author events, competitions and exclusive discounts with our partners. You are welcome to unsubscribe at anytime. You understand the course materials are copyright and agree never to sell, rent or otherwise distribute your course materials in any way.
